

Report on Research Project
Department of Psychology
(2021-2022)

Psychology is a science that seeks to understand behaviour and mental processes and a profession that applies empirical knowledge to improve the lives of people. It is a broad discipline. Psychologists study the intersection of two critical relationships: one between function of brain and behaviour, and one between the environment and behaviour. Psychology is run by our college since past many years. As it belongs to Arts faculty, Students from Arts faculty opted Psychology as optional subject. Our college has always tried to provide better Theoretical knowledge and Practical experiences to enhance subject knowledge. Class room study, Survey, Counselling sessions, Case studies, Project work are the methods applied in teaching learning process as per guidelines by RTM Nagpur University Nagpur. Research project is one of the tools of evaluation and it is compulsory for BA 6 Sem students. 11 students enrolled in the course to which project preparation was mandatory

The research work is carried out by the students to give them a glimpse of how the work/task/research is performed in real life scenarios by exemplifying the problem statements with the real life world.

- These research activities prepare the students to look in right direction by determining so as to form appropriate problem statements like "why", "how" and "what".
- To administer correct psychological tools and instruments to find out the outcomes to the above questions framed.
- To synthesize and analyse the data transformed into information in order to infer from the process done.

Above all, the exercise acquaints them with the fundamentals and application of the same as and when required throughout the span of their work/career/profession.
